

Alexandria Gazette.

TUESDAY EVENING, NOVEMBER 22.

STURDY CHIEF JUSTICE JOHN MARSHALL seems to have a sturdy lot of descendants. One of them, also John Marshall, owns a farm in Virginia, with a well-equipped saw-mill on a creek. He got down in the buzz-saw pit not long ago to fix a loose screw. Suddenly he felt something moving behind him, and he threw his arm up and felt the saw cut right through above the elbow, almost from skin to skin. Raising his head he struck the saw, which cut a groove right through his hair, over his forehead and face and down into his throat. When he was taken out his face was one mass of bleeding flesh. They laid him on the grass and brought a surgeon. While the latter was running across the fields to the spot where the men had left Marshall he heard his voice saying, as well as the wounds would permit: "Shove this stuff away from my eye so that I can see whether it's hurt." They did "shove the stuff" away from his eye as carefully as possible, and he gave them one gleaming glance and then murmured: "It's all right; I can see." It took the surgeon an hour and a half to dress all his wounds. He endured the pain with perfect composure. Within a month he was out again as well as ever. Some one was telling one of the darkies on the place, while "Marster John" was still in bed, what a narrow escape he had from death. "Hub!" said the darky, "take heap more than that to kill Marster John. Why, if you wanted to kill Marster John you'd have to cut his head off—and then hide the head!"—Philadelphia Record.

Professional Etiquette

prevents some doctors from advertising their skill, but we are bound by no such conventional rules and think that if we make a discovery that is of benefit to our fellows, we ought to spread the fact to the whole land. Therefore we cause to be published throughout the land the fact that Dr. R. V. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery" is the best known remedy for consumption (scrofula of the lungs) and kindred diseases. Send 10 cents in stamps for Dr. Pierce's complete treatise on consumption, with unsurpassed means of self treatment. Address, World's Dispensary Medical Association, 663 Main street, Buffalo, N. Y.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS

THE WISDOM OF NOTHING BUT, for children teaching, is the prescription of one of the best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and has been used for forty years with never-failing success by millions of mothers for their children. During the process of teething its value is incalculable. It relieves the child from pain, cures dysentery and diarrhoea, griping in the bowels, and wind-colic. By giving health to the child it saves the mother. Price 25 cents a bottle. —W. F. C. REIGHTON & CO.
